Local Team Scored Well

Cedarville High made a splendid showing at the basketball tournament at Oxford last Friday and Saturday. Cedarville High after drawing a bye in the first round, started off with a bang in the second round in winning from Westchester by a lopsided score of 19 to 0. Westchester proved no match for our local boys. Cedarville's entire squad participated in this game, and each one played a stellar game.

Saturday morning De Graff was met and conquered to the tune of 12 to 8. Then the feature game of the tournament took place at 1:30 Saturday afternoon when our boys stacked up against Miamisburg. Before the tournament began Miamisburg and Eaton were favored for first place. After Miamisburg had won from Eaton it was no little task for the Cedarville team to spoil Miamisburg's hopes. But the brilliant playing and team work of Cedarville crushed their opponents by a score of 11 to 6. The winning of this game placed our team in the finals.

After going this far our boys had great hopes of winning the cup and the title. The final game was played with Bradford, and it was heartbreaking to say the least. The local team, because of the hard games previous to this and some of the players not being in the best condition, displayed the weakest basketball that they had shown to this time. Bradford spoiled all hopes with a 9 to 8 score.

The following was taken from the notes of the reporters:

"In Johnson Cedarville revealed a strong back guard." "Smith and Webster were constant at scoring."

"Cedarville had the closest guarding combination on the floor." "The guarding of Johnson featured the half (Miamisburg game)." "Bates' floor work and ability to cage the ball will make him a contender for the first team." "Little, always a consistent player was noticeable for his floor work and close guarding in the Miamisburg game." "Cedarville played clean ball, only six fouls being called on them in all their games." Bates and Johnson both drew down places in the first team while Smith was was Cedarville's 54 to their opponents 28.

Other local teams in the county that had a part in the tournament were Jamestown, which was defeated early in the elimination process for the class B division and Xenia that went down to defeat before Steel High of Dayton in the A division.

The local team, while not being a winner for honors in the state contest, won recognition over some of the strongest teams in the South. West division of the state. Coach Warner is to be congratulated on the manner in which he had handled the team and much of the success is due his personal efforts on the training floor.

LEGISLATURE ABOLISHES TOWNSHIP TREASURER JOB

A bill passed several days ago and is now said to be a law abolishes the position of township treasurer. The clerk of the township is to become the treasurer. A few years ago the school board treasurer was abolished and the clerk made treasurer.

The Clark County Commissioners and Township Trustees association at a meeting last Saturday fixed the following scale for road work this summer: Two-horse teams, 62 1-2 cents per hour. Three horse teams, 75 cents per hour. Four horse teams, 87 1-2 cents per hour. The teams are given an increase of about 15 cents per hour over last year and labor 12 1-2 cents.

The Northup Hatchery near Yellow Springs is one of the busiest places in the county at the present time. Mr. Northup has just put in operation a mammoth incubator in connection with his former plant and his capacity has been greatly increased for baby chicks of all breeds. He not only has an extensive business in chicks but does much custom hatching. He buys several thousand dozen of eggs monthly not only for his own hatchery but for other hatcheries in this section. These eggs are from inspected flocks and where Mr. Northup does the culling. Farmers who can meet the requirements get about ten cents a dozen more for their eggs than market price.

Says Sam: When the boys begin to ask can they have the "flivver" tonight, that's another sign of spring.

The reason the boys in France used to carve the juice of canned tomatoes is that this juice is loaded with vitamins, dietitians say, and vitamins ran low in the overseas diet. One dietitian figures that the family ought to eat 12 quarts a head of canned tomatoes between fall and spring.

The chick raised early is a chick half raised.

Land is evidently holding.

London the other day. One tract of 150 acres appraised at $90, said to be only in fair condition, brought $121 and some. Another tract of 90 acres appraised at $85 was sold for $106.50 an acre. The prices are regarded good for the kind of land sold.

Purity Lass, No. 419,375, a Jersey cow owned by Oliver Sparrow, Route 3, out of Springfield, holds the milk and butter production championship of Clark county, according to Maurice Valley, official tester for Clark county. Purity Lass produced 137 pounds of butter fat in two days. The milk tests 4.72 per cent butterfat. According to this test this cow stands an excellent chance of breaking the state record for milk and butterfat.

The state proposes to instal a large creamery at the prison farm near London that will provide butter not only for the use of 2500 inmates but the other state institutions at Columbus. The state now has the largest herd of Holsteins at the prison farm than can be found in Ohio. Milk is supplied the three institutions about Columbus. Prison help will be used for all the work making quite a saving to the state.

C. H. Crouse has rented his farm on the Columbus Pike to W. O. Thompson, and the former will hold a public sale Thursday, March 15. Mr. Crouse has not announced definite plans for the future but will probably come to town.

Whether to load up or go slow on hogs is a question with economists as well as farmers. C. R. Arnold, an expert on the O. S. U., has the following to say: "Examinations of 6 1/2 farm records in western Ohio, show a more than 20 per cent increase in the number of brood sows on these farms as compared with the number on January 1, 1922. The so-called corn-hog price ratio, which often is called into aid price predictions on hogs, stood at 11 in February. This is the large ratio for the past 12 years, but the general ratio during the past months has been above this level. This is to say, pork has been worth more in relation to corn than is generally the case, and that is probably why we find these 20 percent additional brood sows being kept for spring farrowing on these western Ohio farms. Economic history would indicate that a high point in hogs, when opposed to a low point in corn, brings about a price reversion within 18 months, but this did not take place last year, though the February ratio then was 1 to 10, the widest in history."

Cashier Short Around $600,000

Springfield was startled Tuesday when a Federal Reserve examiner placed in charge of the Springfield National Bank at the corner of High and Limestone streets and the institution closed until the business of the bank can be straightened out following the discovery of a shortage of $600,000 in the Liberty Loan account, which was in charge of the cashier, A. H. Penfield.

According to reports Penfield did not show up at the bank that day and on investigation it was found that he had tried to commit suicide in the garage of his father-in-law's home, Dr. D.

conscious having cut the arteries in each wrist while seated in an automobile. He was taken to the Gotwald residence and Dr. Clement Jones called. The arteries were sewed up and unless complications arise due to the exposure he will recover. After he became unconscious he fell over the steering wheel and the weight of his body pushed the horn button. The continued blowing of the horn aroused the neighbors and the investigation resulted as above found.

The cashier of the bank has been in the employ of that institution many years and the shortage of $600,000 was a shock to the directors and the depositors. Penfield has not yet recovered sufficient to give any reason for the shortage unless he has been speculating with bank securities.

Appeals To Stomach and Soul

Rev. Vinton E. Busler, former pastor of the St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church in Eaton, has tried an experiment during the twenty months of his pastorate that has proven highly successful. He has demonstrated the intimacy of the stomach and the soul and the inter-relationships of their actions.

The experiment has transformed the mid-week service, once near dead, with an average attendance of less than 20, into an interesting and thoroughly live, weekly church dinner and convention of religious study groups, attended by half the members of the congregation.

"Church night," is the title given the mid-week dinner meetings. The plan, by which it functions, is believed to be without an exact duplicate in the church or nation. Nineteen of the meetings conducted each Wednesday from 6 to 9 p. m., have been held so far. The average attendance has been about 104.4. The total membership of the church is about 367, nineteen new members being taken in since Rev. Busler became pastor of the Eaton charge.

The congregation is divided into 12 units, each composed of members of from ten to eighteen families. Each unit takes its turn in providing and serving the dinner, which is free to all members. The cost is distributed among the serving members of that unit, and averages about 1.80 to each family, or about 1-2 cents per person served. The cost has never exceeded ten cents per plate.

The usual sandwich and cup of coffee has been supplanted with a menu like the last which consisted of stewed chicken and noodles, gravy, mashed potatoes, hot rolls and coffee with "seconds" for everyone. Two-hundred and five persons were served at a cost of $18.

The dinner is ordinarily served from 7 to 7 o'clock after which all take part in a song service with short prayer and address lasting until 7:30. At this time the congregation is divided into seven groups, including three progressive study classes in religious and social problems; the choir holding its regular weekly rehearsal; separate classes in scoutcraft for the boy scouts of the younger children.

The success of the mid-week meetings has been reflected in a pronounced increase in attendance at the Sunday services, according to Rev. Busler.

THE SWEETEST MUSIC

A wealthy man residing in an exclusive apartment house recently established the custom of bringing groups of city poor children to his place and turning them loose in his quarters as only children can do to enjoy themselves. A number of the nerve-racked fashionable dwellers in the apartment house soon joined in a petition to have the nuisance stopped. When haled into court, the lover of children observed: "There is no court in the land that can check a child's laughter." The Judge believed and agreed with him, but sustained the rights of the petitioners and the children's parties in that particular location were forbidden.

We love the glorious music of the great composers—it is something caught from the source of divinity; but we, perhaps the most of us, better love the sweet and simple melodies which, bubbling from the heart, issue from the lips of children to an accompaniment of echoing laughter.

The singing of children, and their happy laughter—what would this world be without them? A hell so sad that other tortures would serve as a welcome relief to doomed souls!

The child-loving philosophy of the city flat was right. Singing and laughter give happiness not alone to the youth that sings and laughs, but to all hearts that yearn for happiness, sympathy to all aching, despairing hearts. But such music is not appreciated by the selfish residents of a fashionable apartment house.

In the memory of every normal individual must live the songs and laughter of innocent childhood, the mother songs—soft lullabies which mingle with the flickering firelight of winter eves, woo tired eyes to close until the sandman on his dream ship comes to bear the sleeper away, away through palest song-haunted seas, where care never was, nor grief, nor pain.

No, there is no court in the land can hush the laughter of a child, or still the mother's crooning lullaby. But courts can move these blessings beyond walls infested by crusty, crabbed shrivelled souls.

OHIO AND REFORM

Ohio is regarded in and out of the state as one of the most advanced in thought and progressive ideas of any in the Union. To this all Ohioans will readily agree.

But if we look on the other side of a situation not always considered, Ohio evidently must be the most corrupt state in the Union. As a state of reforms and reform organizations no state has more of them than Ohio.

The Other day the Ohio Prison Reform Association met recently in Oberlin and the resolutions passed have been widely published over the state. Some of the recommendations we would say are good others are decidedly bad.

First the death penalty should be abolished. Another was that the indeterminate sentence should be used for all crimes. This resolution is decidedly bad. For the past five years Ohio has been reaping a harvest of crime more from the use of the indeterminate sentence than anything else. A prisoner is sent up and by a few months of good behavior and a political pull or a shrewd lawyer on the job and the prisoner is out ready to play his trade again and society has to stand for it.

Reform organizations have to have something to reform. The more of these fellows at liberty the more the reformer impresses on the public the necessity of such organizations. We do not say it in every case but in a large per cent of these organizations the salary is the most attractive part of the work. That probably answers the reason why we have so many reform organizations. If the list of all in this state who are drawing fat salaries that are connected with these organizations were published, the conclusion would be reached that Ohio was the worst state in the Union.

Not so—Ohio is only a fertile field for professional grafting of fat salaries.

THE WEATHER

The weather furnishes the best topic for diversion of conversation of anything we know of.

When people tire of discussing the League of Nations, the tariff, Congress or taxation matters, they can always have a ready subject in the weather.

And the month of March is the best of the year for changes. One day we have the welcome sunshine only to be followed by chilly blasts and snow. It may or may not come in like a lion that seems to have no bearing, in fact no more than the appearance of Mr. Ground Hog on February 2.

We have this consultation in March. We know that with it the winter is disappearing and that spring cannot be many days away.

HELL GO FIFTH—
Where are you going my pretty maid?
I'm going forth to bathe, said she.
Where are you going, fresh young sir?
Me? I think I'll go fifth, said he.

Half Against a Half—
It is said that one half of the world does not know how the other half lives. It now looks as if one half does not care what the other half thinks of its way of living.

Every Little Movement—
Minister—Would you care to join us in a new missionary movement?
May—I am crazy to try it; is it anything like the fox trot?

You Get the Pain—
Under present prices when you go to buy glass for your window, you get a pain.

The Poor Fish—
The sunfish plays in the water.
The starfish rests in the sand.
The flying fish uses the atmosphere.
And the poor fish walk on land.

How Old Is Aunt?
Aunt was explaining to little Harold the story about Columbus discovering America and ended it with: "And all this happened over four hundred years ago."

Harold, his eyes wide open with wonder, said after a moment's thought, "Gosh, aunt, what a memory you have."

Who Would Think That—
The Woolworth building is a book of many stories.

That Marshall Field was a general.
That air-brakes are part of a flying machine.

That Farm Bloc is an overgrown city square.
That Easter is an annual European poultry show.

And that Lent is a European loan.

A New Turk Law—

The Turks have made marriage compulsory. Someday bachelors in this country will be put under control.

The prayer circle was in charge of Mrs. R. C. Watt. The program "India" was in the form of a mock trial to prove that India was not ready to be an independent nation. About sixty ladies were present.

The House on Wednesday passed the Taft tax bill that will give cities a 17 mill rate as a maximum and 14 mills in rural districts. We do not know whether the bill includes or excludes villages but if it is the latter, most of the villages will go on the rock pile for under the present rate of 15 mills, the state taking out funds for elections, county health board, assessments for improved roads that connect the towns, there is not going to be much left for the upkeep of the small towns. The taxpayer will be paying the tax but the money will not be available for the town upkeep, or a sufficient amount.

COLLEGE NOTES

Last Wednesday morning the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. were instructed in the form of worship in India by Dr. John Taylor. It was very interesting as he had the robe that the priests of India wore and also the idols and the different instruments that are used. Mr. Taylor also gave some enjoyable lectures at the churches. We feel sure that his visit was an inspiration to the town and especially those who are interested in Mission work.

The Girls' basket ball team made its first trip to Cincinnati last week. The girls reported a fine time and we know they put up a hard fight. The score was 44 to 14 in favor of Cincinnati but the fact that the Cincinnati team had not been beaten but a couple of times in ten years, encourages us and we feel sure we played a fine game. Miss Somers accompanied the team.

Next week we are planning to have the inter class basket ball games played. Class spirit is working to a high degree as all members are responding faithfully to practice for them. We only hope the spirit will creep into the faculty meeting and some team be challenged by them. Rahl Rahl Rahl Faculty!

The Juniors are working day and night on their play which is to be given Monday, the 12th. Certainly everyone wants to see how "Billy Disappeared."

The Freshmen called a meeting Tuesday and of course the higher classmen looked wise and knowingly but alas! it was only a due meeting. Since when have the Freshmen started the system of taxation. We knew they were very systematic but not to such an extent.

Alas! The Sophomores broke forth with a spread, the first one for this year. Certainly they cannot criticize the Sophomores about keeping late hours and extravagance on the account of feeds. Everyone enjoyed the evening and voted the Clark's very hospitable and Charles Brown as a fine cook. Although we live many miles from Mexico we can still enjoy their food. The Mexican supper was very good and rather "hot". If you don't believe ask "Dot."

Mr. Howard Arthur has been absent for several days with the grippe but is able to be back with us again. No doubt we all missed you, but a certain Freshman seemed to sing continually "Grieving for You".

The College boys are working very hard practicing for the minstrel to be given this month.

Mrs. Anderson is directing the music and we feel sure it will be a success and the best that Cedarville College has ever given.

Several of the members of our Psychology class have decided to write a book about "Animal Reason". They think it necessary that the first edition be sold to their teacher, as he disagrees with them on the subject. Probably these few members are not in logic class as they would feel that animals would have to have more intellectual power than the logic class.

At the first of our logic class meeting, Dr. McChesney told us "you will float for a while, then swim, and finally sink." Some of its members are beginning to call for help as they believe themselves going down the last time.

Mrs. Susan Taylor Smith, aged 53, wife of Charles E. Smith, the well-known barber, died at the home of her father, John B. Taylor on the Columbus pike, Friday afternoon. The deceased had been ill for several weeks and her death was not unexpected. Death was due to a complication of troubles from which she was bedfast for the past ten weeks. Mrs. Smith was born here and spent all her life in this vicinity. She was a woman well liked by all who knew her. She is survived by her father, who is past ninety, a half sister, Mrs. Sidney Bowles of Jamestown and one brother, Morris Taylor at home. She was a member of St. Paul's A. M. E. church. The funeral was held from the home of her father Sabbath afternoon. Burial took place Massies Creek cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS: We wish to thank the many friends and kind neighbors for the assistance rendered during the sickness of our daughter and wife. Also to the friends and businessmen of Cedarville for the beautiful floral offerings.
John B. Taylor and Son.

Richard Lloyd Jones Says

TEST YOUR EDUCATION

The best college is not measured by endowment. It is measured by the men and women it turns out. The test of culture is the ability to serve, the power of giving, not getting; of helping, not hindering. The college will oftentimes pass a man the world will quickly junk. Many men have been honored in college who have been dishonored by society because with all their high gradings in classes they have not learned how to march with the masses. The college is a starter but it never completes the education job. Your education does not end when you pick up your diploma. That is when it just begins. That is why graduation day is Commencement Day. Many of the best educated people are their education without the help of college courses. Test yourself. If you can honestly answer "yes" to all the questions that follow you are indeed educated, even though you never heard of Xenophon's Anabasis and never owned a parchment encased in a tin tube. Has education given you sympathy with all good causes and made you espouse them? Has it made you public spirited? Have you learned to make friends and keep them? Do you know what it is to be a friend yourself? Do you look an honest man or pure woman straight in the eye? Do you see anything to love in a little child? Will a lonely dog follow you in the street? Can you be high-minded and happy in the meanest drudgeries of life? Do you think washing dishes and peeling corn as compatible with high thinking as dancing or golf? Are you good for anything to yourself? Can you be happy alone?

Can you look out on the world and see anything except dollars and cents? Can you be a brother to your neighbor? Have you a better ambition than merely "to make your pile"? Have you formed the habit of hoping that you may help others and thereby leave this world a little better than you found it? Do you put patriotism into your politics? Do you support a public official after election with the same enthusiasm you show before election and thereby help him to fulfill his pre-election promises? Can you read the history that is written in the rocks that boldly shoulder the broad current and bend the river in its course? Does the mountain lift you nearer heaven and the sea lead you in silent prayer? Can you look into a mud puddle by the wayside and see a clear sky? Can you see anything in the puddle but mud? Can you look into the sky at night and see beyond the stars? Can your soul claim relationship with the Creator? How many college A. B.'s can honestly say "yes" to these 22 questions? If you cannot, as it is not time to ask yourself which has failed, you or your college? There are many who could pass this examination who cannot boast of an academic degree. To help you to conceive the purpose of life and to pursue that purpose is the mission of every school and college. They are to equip you with the tools. You are to use the tools. Are you educated? Study these questions, answer them honestly, and you yourself will know.

LESSON FOR MARCH 11

JESUS IN GETHSEMANE

LESSON TEXT—Luke 22:39-46, 54.
GOLDEN TEXT—Christ also hath once suffered for our sins, the just for the unjust, that He might bring us to God—1 Peter 3:18.
REFERENCE MATERIAL—Matt 26:36-46; Mark 14:32-42; Luke 22:39-46; John 18:1-11.
PRIMARY TOPIC—An Angel Helps Jesus.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Prays for Strength.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How to Stand the H. M. Test.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Submission to the Father's Will.

Jesus at the Mount of Olives (v. 39). He went from the upper room under cover of night to the garden of Gethsemane. Gethsemane means oil press. It is a place where the oil was crushed out of the olives. There is a striking significance in Jesus' coming to this place. Olive oil was precious, being used both for food and lighting. The bruising and crushing of Christ in this garden has yielded the largest blessings in the world. It has provided food for men's souls and light for their lives.

II. His Companions (vv. 39, 40). Peter, James and John, who had been with Him on the Mount of Transfiguration, were permitted to go with Him into the deep shadows of the garden. He took those who were best able to apprehend the meaning of the tragic hour to be His sympathizing companions. This was needed to prepare them as His witnesses. Then, too, as a human being He craved sympathy.

Jesus Praying (vv. 41-44).
1. He Withdrew From the Disciples (v. 41). Even these disciples of the "inner circle" could not go with Him. He tore himself away from them for He must be alone in the darkest hour. He knelt down and prayed.

2. What He Said (vv. 42-44). "If thou be willing remove this cup from me." The cup did not mean the physical sufferings of the cross, though they were very great. He did not now desire to escape from the world and thus stand short of His redemptive work, for this was the supreme purpose of His coming into the world (Heb. 2:14). It was rather the revelation to Him by the cross which loomed before Him, of His identification with sin in becoming the world's Redeemer. By virtue of the holiness and perfection of His nature, He could do nothing else than shrink from it. He saw in this bearing of the sins of the world the turning away of His Father's face. Knowing what was before Him, He came to Gethsemane for this hour and night. He consciously brought his human will into accord with the divine will. Though the cup was bitter he bowed in submission to the Father's will. So great was this agony that His sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling down to the ground. In this crucial hour an angel from heaven strengthened him.

IV. The Disciples Sleeping (vv. 45, 46). They had boasted of their fidelity, but could not watch with Him for an hour. He had issued a word of warning to them, but they were so benumbed with sorrow that they failed. He gently rebuked them, and commanded that they rise and pray lest they enter into temptation.

V. Jesus Betrayed (vv. 47, 48).
1. The Betrayal (v. 47). This was done by Judas, one of the twelve. He had enjoyed the most intimate relations with the Lord, eating with Him, listening to His teaching, witnessing His marvelous miracles and enjoying His confidence.

2. The Sign of Betrayal (v. 47). It was the kiss, the token of the most tender affection and friendship. He now degrades it by making it the token of disloyalty and treason. Jesus' words to this infamous disciple shows the infinite tenderness of His heart. If Judas had been at all human this basest appeal would have smitten him to the very heart. How many professing disciples have proven their disloyalty to the Master and even betrayed Him. All who bear the name, Christian, and especially ministers and teachers who deny the virgin birth, deity and vicarious atonement of Christ, are following in the footsteps of Judas. May each one inquire, "Lord, is it I?"

VI. Jesus Arrested (v. 54).
The multitude around with swords and clubs led by Judas invaded the sacred precincts of the garden and arrested Jesus and brought Him before the high priest.

ROADS IMPASSABLE IN MANY SECTIONS OF COUNTY

The spring thaw has tested the roads, particularly the gravel roads that are given much use. The Kyle road that runs from the Wilmington road through to the Columbus pike is in bad condition. It happens that Township Trustee Collins Williamson stuck in the mud Monday night while on his way home. The Federal police has broken in three or four places near the home of Mrs. J. H. Stormont. More than one machine has had to be pulled out. This road while built of stone is worn out in these places and needs to be rebuilt.

We have observed the expression of numerous farmers the past week on discussion of roads and what they should be built of. One man tells us he never realized what a good road was until this winter. He is now enjoying the benefits of the Jamestown pike and only regrets that it was not rebuilt sooner than it was.

Another farmer who does not live on a main market road tells us that he only wishes it were possible to get a hard surface road by his farm. Another farmer says that he would loose heart in farming if he had to go back to the days of old and reside on an unimproved road. He is thankful for a hard surface road he says and never would own land any other kind of a road.

The same expression can be had of the city property owner that has a hard surface street in front of his property. He would not trade for property on the mud street. A trip over North Main street is but proof that council is acting wise in paving that thoroughfare with a hard surface that will stand for years to come. It adds to the value of property and means much in years to come to the village as it removes the continued up-keep of the street for repairs.

FOR THIRTY-EIGHT YEARS

It was thirty-eight years Wednesday since Charles E. Smith opened a barbershop in the basement of our building on North Main street. During all these years Mr. Smith has been serving the public. He informs us that George A. Shroades was one of his first customers. Also that the Editor was a customer that day. However is must not be inferred that by mentioning this that we are trying to get in Mr. Shroades' class for age. Mr. Shroades was only getting a shave while we were having our first barbershop hair cut after several seasons of the home-cut variety.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY WHEN SHOPPING

By MRS. HARLAND H. ALLEN
(C. 1922, Harland H. Allen.)

WHEN YOU BUY A HAIR BRUSH

"Every woman needs at least two hair brushes," declares a well-known head of a Chicago hair-dressing house. "One a penetrating flat surface brush for the scalp, the other a large, oval bristle brush for the hair."

But whether you are shopping for one general utility brush, or several special purpose ones, the problem of quality ought to be the first concern.

A good brush not only gives more satisfaction, but lasts a lifetime. A cheap brush is hard on the hair, more trouble to keep clean, and very short lived.

Brush quality depends first upon the kind of bristle used, and then, almost as important, on how well it is fastened to the back or handle. Cheap brushes are made up with a fiber whisk or low-grade animal bristle, while in the best quality brushes, only select hog bristles are used. It is interesting to know that northern hogs produce the best brush bristles—the finest grade of all coming from a wild Siberian boar.

To see if a brush has real animal bristles or just fiber, there are three easy tests: (1) Press down the center of the brush, then remove the hand suddenly. True bristles will straighten up quicker than imitation. (2) Put a bristle in the flame of a match. If it burns like hair, it is animal bristle. If like paper, it is a vegetable product. (3) Pull a bristle quickly over the back of a knife. The true bristle will curl down, but the fiber is likely to break.

Now as to the method of fastening the bristles to the back of the brush. The poorest way is to glue them, for they will soon loosen and come out.

In the hard rubber brush, a very effective way is to set the bristles in molten rubber, and then finish when cool.

Other good quality brushes have the bristles "drawn" or sewed in with wire. This is a fairly simple process when the back has a veneer top to hide the stitches, but in the solid handles a heavy wire must be run through the back to catch in the loops of bent bristles which have been shoved up into small holes made to receive them. This locks the bristles in and makes an "everlasting" brush.

A little examination will show which of the methods was used. In the solid handle brush you can usually see where two wire holes have been plugged in the front end.

Swordfish range from four to fifteen feet in length, the sword, its' being as long as three feet in some cases.

A Question of Moment!

Thousands of people will ask themselves today—"Where shall I buy my EASTER Suit?"

"There are so many stores, each one claiming to be better than the rest. It's really bewildering!"

Those who have bought at this store will say—"I know I can't do better anywhere else than I can there!"

Many who have not been here will say—"I've heard so much of the 'Kuppenheimer,' store, I feel as if I ought to go there! I guess I'll look at Katz & Richards anyhow."

Our Spring and Summer Suits are low for the high values we give. A small deposit will hold the one you want for Easter.
